

Graduation at Anglo-American School of Sofia

By Ana C. Leahy

IBDP Coordinator, The Anglo-American School of Sofia, Bulgaria

On May 29, 2010, the Anglo-American School of Sofia proudly graduated its first ever senior class! All nine students are full IB diploma candidates and represent the culmination of years of careful institutional planning. Our sincere and heart-felt congratulations to the class of 2010!

The Anglo-American School of Sofia (AAS) was founded in 1967 by the American and British Embassies to meet the educational needs of their elementary school aged children; at the time, operating from two sites 15 km apart, the total enrollment was approximately 15 pupils. Since then, the AAS has experienced tremendous growth! In 1998, the school moved to The American College of Sofia campus, and in September 2008 AAS moved into its brand new, seven hectares, award-winning, purpose built campus.

Our school currently has 340 students preK-12 and sports the IB program as its flagship. Way to go Wolves! 🌐

You're in a position of great power. The power to make a difference.

You have a vision for your success as an educator.

The Richard W. Riley College of Education and Leadership at Walden University can help you achieve it. Walden offers more than 45 online programs with more than 195 specializations and concentrations, all designed to help your students succeed while advancing your career. Walden is an accredited institution with 40 years of experience in distance learning and more than 45,000 education students and alumni. In May 2010, for the fourth year in a row, Walden was identified as having the largest online